Veterans Powwow 2022

by Val Niehaus

This Veterans Powwow was held on June 11-12, 2022, at the Potawatomi Community Center. This year's powwow brought veterans from all over the state. Those carrying the staffs and flags in during grand entry were: FCP Post I Veterans, Sokaogon Chippewa Veterans, Veterans of Menominee Nation and Oneida Nation Veterans.

Grand entry was on Saturday at 1 p.m. and 7 p.m., and on Sunday at noon. The host drum was Showtime, and other drums that were present were: Fire Nation, Smokey Town, Motown, Red Willow, Bear Ridge, Showtime, and Tomahawk Circle.

The MC for the weekend was Artley Skenandore with Co-MC Dylan Prescott who always keeps the crowd smiling and laughing. Ronald Goodeagle was the arena director who kept thing going at a steady pace and made sure the dance circle stayed in order. Head Veteran this year was Walker Stonefish. Head dancers for the weekend were John Teller Jr. and Jamie Awonohopay.

Committee specials included a Veteran's Special, Men's Traditional, Women's Jingle, and a Teens All Around. There was an honored jingle dress dance to help promote healing towards the Veterans present during the weekend.

A singing contest was held for the big drums with prizes for the 5 best sounding drums in the arena. The winners were: 1st - Motown, 2nd - Smokey Town, 3rd - Red Willow, 4th - Tomahawk Circle, 5th - Bear Ridge. Congratulations to you all!

As with each year, there was food vendors serving up their specialties including fry bread, Indian tacos, rez dogs, wild rice casserole, lemonade, brownies just to name a few things to make your belly rumble. There were also craft vendors that had beautiful bead work, art prints, jingles, belts, medicines anything to fit your needs.

Sidney Steven Daniels Sr.

Sidney Steven Daniels Sr. (Gawtagizhek "All Around The Sky") eagle clan, Crandon, passed away on Saturday, June 18, 2022. He was surrounded by family. He was born Sept. 10, 1939, in Hayward, Wis., to William and Alice (Benn) Daniels.

He has one son, Sidney Daniels Jr., which he had loved dearly. He was blessed with two grandsons: Galen Isaac Gutierrez-Daniels and Sidney Steven Daniels III. He had loved being a grandfather and cherished his grandchildren.

Sid has a long history of employment within the tribal programs. He had said, "But the best job was as Security Guard in which he was post at the Gte Ge Nēs head start and Rising Sun Daycare." He had loved being around all the children. He was also seated in one of the most important positions within our Anishnaabe belief system.

His interests included spending as much time with his grandsons — taking them fishing, taking long drives listening to pow wow music, old country, rock n' roll and attending and dancing at powwows. He had just enjoyed spending as much time with his grandsons as possible. He was a traditional dancer, and he made all his regalias. He took a lot of pride in being self-taught with all his indigenous crafts. He enjoyed sharing his cultural and history with his community. He always felt a sense of great pride to dance at powwows throughout his life, especially with his brothers, sisters, nephews, nieces, and community members. He would also sing and drum — he knew a lot of those old songs from way back in the day. He enjoyed watching old black and white western shows; one of his favorite shows was "John Wayne". He said, "I want my hair fixed like a young John Wayne." He was a gentle man and had enjoyed the simple things in life.

He was a strong believer in those old ways, and it was important for him to continue carrying on those traditions. He had always shared those old stories and talking about back in the day. He admired the younger generations practicing our cultural ways. He was always happy to help and answer questions about our cultural and history, always stressing how we must understand who we are as Anishnaabe people.

In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by sisters: Mary, Florence, Elizabeth; brothers: Ned Sr. Julius and William Daniels Jr.

Surviving him includes son Sidney Jr.; grandsons Galen and Sidney III; and community of nieces, nephews, family, and friends.

The Forest County Potawatomi have lost the last of the original Daniels generation. Sidney was a traditionalist in his Native American Culture and was an inspiration to many. He was well loved and will be truly missed a long to come.

Visitation was June 21, 2022 at the Potawatomi Cultural Center, Crandon. Native American service was June 22, 2022, with James Thunder officiating.

Weber-Hill Funeral Home assisted the family with arrangements. Online condole can be made at www.weberhillfuneralhome.com

Jerylynn "Berry" Kroening

Jerylynn "Berry" Kroening, 55, of Laona passed away Tuesday, May 31, 2022, peacefully surrounded by friends and family.

Berry was born June 14, 1966, to Harvey White Jr. and Carol (George) White. Her paternal father was Eugene Shawano Sr., but she was raised, loved and cared for Harvey her whole life. She was born and raised in Milwaukee, Wis., and got her nickname "Berry" From a family friend. She loved to eat "berry" pies. She and her family resided in the Milwaukee area until she was a late teen, early adult.

In 1984-85, she met the love of her life, Chris Kroening, and married him. Shortly after, they had their first daughter, Christy, followed by Brandon and Brandii. They moved around a lot until their kids started school. Berry worked as a Blackjack dealer for many years in Carter (formally known as Northern Lights Casino). From there, she worked as a security guard and museum receptionist. She always took care of her co-workers, whipping up coffee, meals, and always had goodies.

Berry was truly special, smart, serious, loving, great mother and friend. She always told it like it was, good or bad, and wasn't scared of anyone. She'd give you the shirt off her back and had a heart of gold. Misunderstood, but loved unconditionally even when she didn't know how to show it.

Her drive was never giving up on her family, her children and especially her "grannies" as she called them were her world. She loved to gamble, play dice "10,000", shop and dress good. Her favorite color was turquoise just like her mother Carol. She knew how to dress, act, talk and throw down if need be. Her personality and arguing will be missed the most.

Berry is survived by her children: Christy Kroening (Jordan Cook); Brandon Kroening (Alicia Chitko); Brandii Kroening (Richard Dick); 13 grandchildren: LJ, Bella, Chevy, Carter, Ciara, Caire, Cooper, Denver, Ivory, Vander, River, Ava, Ally; sisters: Tina White and Victoria White; brothers: Michael White, Harvey White and Kevin White; mother Carol White and father Harvey White Jr.

She was preceded in death by her husband Chris Kroening; and brother James "Jimmy" White.

A celebration of life is planned for Berry and Chris, Saturday, Aug. 27, 2022 at 2 p.m. at the Lake Lucerne Association on Cty. Hwy. W, Crandon.

Online condolences for the family may be directed to www.weberhillfuneralhome.com

Spring Fun & Fit Family Day

by Val Niehaus

The Bodwéwadami Ktëgan and Forest County Potawatomi Community Health department held their annual health fitness day on June 10, 2022, being called this year the "Spring Fun & Fit Family Day". This event happens twice a year with different names associated to it. Some may recall just it being a "5k Fun Run" while others remember it as "Swine, Dine, & Dash"... it's the same event promoting healthy eating, exercise, and family fun.

The day couldn't have been more perfect with comfortable temps and a sunny sky for families to gather to join in on the 5k run/walk, relay races, children's games and door prizes. Subs were provided for lunch. To keep everyone informed and dancing on their toes was music by Greg Tallier who always graces everyone with his presence each year that the event has happened.

The event ended with many door prizes won by those in attendance. There was a cooler filled with healthy food from the Bodwéwadami Ktëgan, an exercise/yoga goodies basket and bikes both large and small. It really was a fun day to enjoy the weather, get some exercise and see community members.

Letter to Tribal Members

submitted by FCP Gaming Commission Intern along with photos

For those of you that do not know me, my name is M'ko Daniels. I have grown up on the rez in Stone Lake all my life and am the most recent intern for the tribe's Gaming Commission. These past few weeks, I have had the pleasure of shadowing the various departments that make up the Commission and seeing what their day-to-day consists of.

I first want to take a moment to say Tthe Migwetth to the Gaming Commissioners: Chad Frank, Marc Young, Carlton Stealer, Nate Gilpin and Oliver Shawano, for giving me this opportunity. For quite some time, I have tried in many ways to be involved with our tribe in some capacity, but have not had the opportunity to do so. Thankfully, the Commissioners gave me this opportunity and I must say it has been a very engaging and enriching experience that I highly recommend to all tribal members, both young and old. Far too often, we forget about the Gaming Commission and in some instances have little to no knowledge of what exactly it is they are doing. I can admit I am one of those members who had very little knowledge, but after having been through this program, I am able to leave with a more thorough understanding of what it is they are doing and also a greater appreciation for the staff that make up the Gaming Commission.

I want to take a second to give mention to each of the departments I have been with and the critical things they are doing on a day-to-day basis to ensure we are able to continually run our gaming operations. For starters, the Compliance Department is comprised of a diligent set of individuals that ensure that we not only remain in compliance with all applicable laws concerning Indian Gaming, but that our various internal controls are in top shape to minimize the overall risk of our gaming operations. These are your people who really know in depth how to properly put together the MICS, SICS, TICS (various internal control standards) and policies and procedures. And, on top of that, make sure they are efficiently being implemented across our gaming property. This also isn't a stationary job by any means, but rather a hands-on one which ensures a personal perspective on seeing that things are in compliance.

The second department I had the pleasure of being in is the Surveillance, Technical and Table Games departments. Throughout my time with the Commission, these are by far in my opinion some of the most hands-on and critical areas of the Commission. The skills and knowledge possessed by these individuals is impressive to say the least. I found this area of the Commission to arguably be the best and therefore chose a second week to be with them to dive further into areas I wanted more information on. As one would expect, they were responsible for not only watching all the cameras on our property, but the technical crew was also tasked with addressing all hands-on issues on the floor when it came to the cameras, which is not any easy task at all. Lastly, the Analytics Specialist & Trainer is one of the sharpest and smartest individuals I have met when it came to really knowing how table games are supposed to properly be played and what surveillance operators look for when someone is cheating on particular game.

The third department I was placed into was the Investigations and Licensing department. By far, these are very thorough and analytical set of departments when it comes to making sure we aren't putting our gaming operations at risk when hiring any particular individuals. Also, the investigations department is absolutely vital in keeping concise and accurate records relating to incidents on our property.

The fourth department and unfortunately the one I spent the least time with due to my graduation was the Audits Department. Despite having such a short amount of time with the department, I was still fortunate to see the diligent work that goes into making sure that the gaming operations are following their policies and procedures along with our internal controls. I will admit this is one of the few heavily-written focused areas given the reports and audits that must be completed on a regular basis.

My fifth and final department, and arguably my second runner-up for favorite, was the Administration of the Gaming Commission. I had the privilege of being able to shadow the Executive Director of the Gaming Commission for a week and a half, which was undoubtedly a very eye-opening experience. The complexity involved with the day-to-day operations of the Gaming Commission is something that I had not initially thought of. By no means is the job an easy one, but it is essential to keeping things running smoothly, and I found the knowledge and discussions with the Executive Director to be both enriching and engaging throughout my time in the department.

With the completion of my time at the Gaming Commission, I was tasked with writing an article to detail my experience here at the Commission and overall, what it was that I learned so, forgive me if things seem lengthy. I wanted to as best as I could detail some of what each area is doing for our tribe so that for those members who may never go through the program, they might at least have some brief explanation given to them as to what happens on a day-to-day basis. I think sometimes it's easy for us as tribal members to forget about the commission or not be too concerned of what they are doing given they aren't a revenue-generating entity; despite that, it is essential we are all aware of what they do.

One of the biggest lessons I have learned from this whole experience that I think needs to be thoroughly stressed is that you cannot have the casino without the Gaming Commission. The proper functioning of a gaming establishment depends on a diligent team composing the Gaming Commission to ensure that the tribe's assets are being looked after with great care. Leaving this program, I have honestly been very comforted and feeling confident in the individuals we have working for the tribe in the Gaming Commission. I am in awe when I hear of the various employees who have spent almost more years with the Commission than I have been alive; that level of dedication deserves our absolute gratitude.

Throughout the history of the Commission, there have undoubtedly been issues surrounding politics and internal disputes that often leave a bad image of the Commission in some tribal member's eyes. I want to say though, despite the obstacles throughout the years, I personally am confident in the employees that make up the Commission and commend them for their dedication to ensuring our most important asset is watched over closely with the same level of care we each have for it as well. I urge all tribal members to always keep the Commission employees in your mind and remember to thank them for their work as well because without the integral role they play, we would not continue to have the benefits we deeply depend on for our people.

In closing, I want to again say Tthe Migwetth to every employee at the Gaming Commission for your dedication to the tribe. It is my hope that in the future your role will no longer be that of a thankless position, but rather one that is praised similar to that of casino side. Tthe Migwetth to everyone that took the time to read my article!

Daniels (R) receiving his certificate of completion.

Arbor Fest: HELD ON WGEMA CAMPUS

On Saturday, June 4th, Near West Side Partners an event to promote a cleaner, greener, and more sustainable community held Arbor Fest. During Arbor Fest, over 100 visitors took home 500 perennials native to Wisconsin and and throughout the event we spoke with residents from each of the seven neighborhoods that make up the Near West Side. All of this plus the weather's cooperation made the event a big success!

This great event couldn't have taken place without our generous and kind event partners! Thank you to Potawatomi Business Development Corporation for the venue, David J. PBDC Internship Program: ACCEPTING APPLICATIONS FOR 2023

Potawatomi Business Development Corporation (PBDC) is pleased to present an Internship Program for current high school students, college students and graduates. This Program offers a preference for members of the Forest County Potawatomi Community (FCPC), their spouses and descendants followed by a preference for other Native Americans. PBDC is looking to provide the candidate with learning opportunities that will foster development of business, communication, leadership, and soft skills through real life experiences in preparation for their professional future.

Each Internship is for a length of eight to twelve weeks during the summer starting 2023 on a full or part-time basis. The Interns will be temporary employees of PBDC and will be assigned to PBDC Corporate Departments or subsidiary operating companies as appropriate. Fields of study include, but are not limited to: Accounting & Finance, Information Technology, Marketing, Human Resources and Engineering.

To be eligible for the Internship Program, the candidate must be an enrolled FCPC member (spouse or descendant), complete the employment application, have the ability to work at PBDC in Milwaukee or at any of its subsidiary locations and participate in an interview for employment.

The application deadline for the 2023 Internships is November 30th, 2021, with interviews and selections occurring no later than December 2022. Please contact PBDC Human Resources at hr@potawatomibdc.com or access the Tribal Members section of our website www.potawatomibdc.com using access code "Internship2020!" to learn more about this exciting opportunity.

Concordia 27: ANNOUNCEMENT KICK-OFF

An annoucement kick-off party for Concordia 27 was held recently at a Near West SIde Eatery - Daddy's Soul Food & Grille. Concordia 27 will be the development of a vacant property on 27th Street in Milwaukee's Concordia neighborhood into a community center and affordable housing development. It will have the power to catalyze momentous health, social and economic improvements for City of Milwaukee and Southeast Wisconsin residents. This project will offer resources and services to residents, create new full-time job opportunities, provide new creative spaces for community engagement, and support entrepreneurs and small businesses as they grow and generate additional jobs to strengthen the local, City, and statewide economy – expanding the impact of Concordia 27 even beyond the Near West Side.

The event was attended by many business professionals in and beyond the NWS, including Governor Tony Evers, NWSP DIrector Keith Stanley, FCP Chairman Ned Daniels, Jr., PBDC CEO Randy Mueller, Marquette University President Mike Lovell, and Harley Davidson President, Ceo and Chairman of the Board Jochen Zeitz amongst a number of others.

The project has been awarded to Greenfire Construction Management.

Aquatic Classes

Shallow Water Aerobics
This conditioning water class is held in the shallow water where no swimming skills are needed. The resistance of the water is meant to eliminate impact and be easy on the joints while performing activities. This class is easy to follow and provides motivating music.

Deep Water Aerobics
Higher-intensity cardiovascular water class designed for active exercisers who are looking for a challenging workout without the impact. Flotation belts are provided and recommended, but not required.

Aqua Zumba®
Join our certified instructors in the water for an aerobic dance workout that is easy on joints.
